Agenda Items

Welcome and Introductions

This meeting of the Task Force on Resolution of Adverse Healthcare Incidents (Task Force) was called to order by John Moorhead at 2:32 p.m. John welcomed members of the public and Beth Kaye took the attendance of Task Force members.

Review and Approve Minutes

John Moorhead requested that the Task Force review the agenda and approve the June 8, 2022, Task Force meeting minutes.

Action Item: Approve Minutes

- Motion: Jeff Goldenberg moved to approve the June 8, 2022, Task Force meeting minutes. Margaret Mikula seconded.
- Vote: John Moorhead called for a vote to approve the June 8, 2022, Task Force meeting minutes and Beth Kaye conducted a roll call vote. Jeff Goldenberg, Anthony Jackson, Bob Joondeph, Margaret Mikula, John Moorhead, Cameron Padilla, and Tina Stupasky voted in favor. The motion passed.

Report from the Executive Director

Valerie Harmon provided an update on Early Discussion and Resolution (EDR) operations.

Leadership Appointment Formalized

- OPSC Board formalized the appointment of Valerie Harmon as Executive Director in June. With this certainty, OPSC is able to move forward with future planning.

Future Organizational Planning

- Evaluating resource needs, including staffing
- Refining plans for upcoming project work
- Reaching out to our networks to draw on their expertise and to identify opportunities for collaboration

Potential 2023 Legislative Agenda

- The 2023 legislative session presents an opportunity to modernize OPSC's founding statute. Revisions will allow OPSC to adapt and respond to new knowledge and insights, making the program more relevant to a healthcare system that will continue to evolve. The proposed revisions also codify health equity as an essential part of the program's data collection and analysis.

EDR Data Process Evaluation Update

Valerie Harmon provided an update on the EDR data process evaluation and introduced Claire Devine, Research Associate from the Center for Outcomes Research and Education (CORE).

Claire presented an overview of CORE's planned approach to the EDR data process evaluation. Work will begin in October 2022, with a projected March 2023 completion date. CORE will be contacting Task Force members in the coming months about their goals and key questions.

Task Force Feedback

- In response to a question, Claire shared that she expects the meaning of “equitable” for the project will be defined broadly to include several key categories (e.g., race, ethnicity, and gender).

EDR Outreach
Activities Update

Beth Kaye provided an update on OPSC outreach activities.

Short-term Projects

- Provide actionable information about EDR to sources patients and families look to for help following a harm event.
  - 211info listing
  - Oregon Health Authority (OHA) Ombudsmen listing
  - Oregon Medical Association (OMA) June 2022 newsletter
  - Oregon Trial Lawyer Association (OTLA) mid-July 2022 newsletter
  - OTLA’s quarterly Trial Lawyer magazine, beginning in Fall 2022
  - Optimize EDR visibility on internet search engines
- Outreach to physicians to increase EDR participation

Long-term Planning

- Develop and implement a strategic communications plan in consultation with a communications firm
  - Progress: Identified potential firms and began initial conversations
  - Next steps: Request and review proposals

Guest Speaker: Tom
Gallagher, MD

John Moorhead introduced Thomas H. Gallagher, MD, MACP, to discuss Communication and Resolution Programs (CRPs) – a principled, comprehensive, and systematic approach to responding to patients who have experienced medical harm.

Key Points

- Healthcare organizations need robust infrastructure for responding consistently when care does not go as planned—a communication and resolution program (CRP)— to help everyone move forward and to improve patient safety.
- Healthcare organization may need support to implement this type of infrastructure.
- Hospitals and clinicians have an ethical responsibility to share information with patients about harm events; the responsibility should not fall on the patient.
  - 90% of EDR requests for conversation have been initiated by patients, but only 45% of these EDR requests for conversation have been accepted.
- The Task Force and OPSC have an opportunity to explore ways to support healthcare organizations be more proactive in their responses to patient harm events.

- Nationally, there has been exponential growth in the number of hospitals with CRPs. However, we are learning that hospitals need more support to implement highly reliable CRPs, which are:
  - Comprehensive: The CRP includes all the elements of a robust CRP, from establishing a culture of safety to providing peer support for clinicians and staff. A CRP that uses only select elements will be ineffective.
  - Systematic: The CRP components are intended to work together (e.g., the staff that are communicating with the patient know about the event investigation and analysis).
  - Principled: The CRP process is used every time a patient is harmed to be effective.
- Ideally, healthcare organizations would implement CRPs in a highly reliable way, so they proactively initiate EDR to talk with patients about harm events and would also be ready to respond to EDR requests from patients.
- Measurements are essential to ensure accountability and drive continuous improvement.
- In Oregon, EDR is an important tool to help encourage a proactive, transparent response to patient harm and potentially the adoption of CRPs.

Task Force Discussion

- Several Task Force members highlighted the importance of organizational engagement with patients and families.
  - Transparency drives ownership and engagement across all areas.
  - Highly reliable organizations commonly defer to experts. Patients and families are the experts in how a healthcare organization should respond when a patient is harmed.
- It is important to obtain support from liability insurers.
- Change will require resources and structure.
- Dr. Thomas H. Gallagher agreed that it might be helpful to have a statewide learning community about CRP.
  - Suggested that an evaluation of Oregon’s legal landscape could be helpful. In time, it might be appropriate to recognize and reward organizations that are doing this work well.
- Rep. Prusak noted that, as her term draws to a close, she hopes that Rep. Dexter will take her place.

EDR 2022 Annual Report Discussion and Feedback

John Moorhead described the EDR annual report development and adoption process. Beth Kaye provided an update about the EDR 2022 Annual Report and requested Task Force feedback. Reflecting the input provided by the Task Force at its June 8, 2022, meeting, the main section of the report encompasses three points:

1. The opportunity: Oregon can increase resiliency and safety by investing in patient-centered infrastructure.
2. What we need to do to get there: We need a collaborative approach to develop a strategy for progress.
3. Our progress so far and plan for 2023: How OPSC is strengthening its capacity to support systemic change and equitably serve Oregonians. (This section will focus on the progress made towards the improvement goals identified by the Task Force in last year’s report.)

Task Force members expressed support for this approach. Members are encouraged to send any suggestions for the EDR 2022 Annual Report to Beth Kaye.

Upcoming Task Force Meeting	The next Task Force meeting is scheduled for December 14, 2022.
